The GDIB Newsletter
For: Expert Panelists, Users, and Others Interested in the GDIB
Editor: GDIB Co-author Julie O’Mara

Issue: 21 February 2017

The GDIB—Global Diversity and Inclusion Benchmarks: Standards for Organizations Around the World—helps organizations of all sizes, in a variety of sectors and industries, using a variety of approaches to D&I work to achieve high-quality D&I outcomes. First published in 2006, the 2016 edition is authored by Julie O’Mara, Alan Richter, Ph.D., and 95 Expert Panelists. It is sponsored by The Diversity Collegium, a nonprofit organization dedicated to advancing the field of diversity and inclusion through think tank dialogues, symposia, research, and publications. The GDIB is free and may be downloaded at http://diversitycollegium.org/globalbenchmarks.php Check regularly for more information and new User Tools.

Please pass this newsletter along to others.
We have a goal to increase the visibility of the GDIB.
Send us potential reader contact information and we will add them. Thank you.

EDITORIAL

OVERCOMING THE CHALLENGES OF SHARING BEST PRACTICES

One of the most frequent requests we receive is for examples and stories of best practices. And, one of the hardest things we find is encouraging D&I practitioners to share best practices with others. At first I thought it was just that people are too busy to take the time to share. I certainly understand that. But I was talking (separately) with Larry Yon, COO and a GDIB user at B&C International, and Expert Panelist Lisa Kepinski, co-author of Inclusion Nudges, and they gave me some additional insight into this problem as well.

Three things that seems to keep D&I practitioners from sharing examples of best practices:
1. “I just can’t take the time right now. There are too many other priorities.”
2. “What we do in our D&I efforts are confidential as we view D&I as a competitive advantage. So I’m sorry but I can’t share.”
3. “I’m sorry to say that our work isn’t all that exceptional. Others are doing much better work. Get back to me in 6 months or a year.”

The mission of the GDIB is to state what “good work is,” advocate for best practices, and then help D&I practitioners and leaders do high quality work. Sharing examples is essential for us to meet our mission and for the D&I profession to achieve. So many of us see the benefit of collaborating to meet the Ultimate Goals of D&I...
GDIB... creating a better world and improving organizational performance.

In fact, one of our benchmarks -- 11.4 (Category 11: Community, Government Relations, and Social Responsibility, at Level 5 (Best Practice) states this: The organization is generous in supporting and assisting other organization in their D&I initiatives and promoting the advancement of D&I and social responsibility in the community.

Therefore – this is a plea to you to please share examples of the work you are doing. Review the GDIB and tell us what you are doing to achieve one benchmark. Help us help others reach Level 5 – Best Practices in all 14 GDIB categories. Julie O’Mara

ACTIONS TO HELP ACHIEVE GLOBAL D&I BENCHMARKS

☑ 10.5 (GDIB CATEGORY 10: CONNECTING D&I AND SUSTAINABILITY, LEVEL 5 PROGRESSIVE) D&I results reflect actions in at least three of the following aspects of sustainability -- People, Planet, Prosperity, Peace, or Partnership.

LEARNING HOW ALIGNING WITH SUSTAINABILITY INITIATIVES CAN ENHANCE THE D&I WORK IN YOUR ORGANIZATION

 our search for examples ***

In 2015, when the 95 Expert Panelists agreed to add a new category to the 2016 Tenth Anniversary Edition of the GDIB to encourage the connection/alignment of D&I and Sustainability initiatives, they knew they were being innovative and entering into territory not many knew much about. While that is still largely true, it is evident that more and more organizations are seeing this connection and using it to enhance both initiatives. We are looking for examples of organizations willing to share (see editorial above) that have substantive experience aligning their D&I and Sustainability initiatives. We plan to publish an article. In the meantime, here are three things you can do to be more informed.

1. Read the sections in the GDIB on sustainability – pages 8 to 11 and page 47
3. Attend this session at the Forum on Workplace Inclusion (March 28 in Minneapolis – Go to page 3 or 16 of this newsletter for registration information): “A Solution for Disruptive Times: Connecting D&I and Sustainability” by Expert Panelist Lynda White and colleague Lauren Gula, Social Sustainability & Gender Equity Manager at the United Nations; and EP Sidalia Reel, Director of Staff Diversity at UC Berkeley.

We highly endorse this conference!!!!! Go here http://www.diversitycollegium.org/newsletters/Special_Forum_Edition_GDIB_News_Jan_17_2017.pdf to see a special edition of this newsletter that focuses on the participation of GDIB Expert Panelists – about 21 will attend (many are presenters), plus GDIB Co-Authors, our Managing Director, our Graphic Designer/Videographer, and many GDIB users. One more conference service we didn’t mention before: you can sign up for one-on-one coaching. This service, orchestrated by Murray Mann, an outstanding coach, has grown over the years with many participants connected with top coaches. Register in advance (info is on the conference site). Several who have participated say “the coaching changed my life.” Also see page 14 to 16 of this newsletter for more information on the conference and related free webinars.

3 GDIB CURRENT SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

Please contact Julie@diversitycollegium.com for the email with details. We’ve priced these at what we think is reasonable given the exposure for you/your organization and your interest in keeping the GDIB free -- expanding the research and service we provide our users. All have quick deadlines...and there will be more opportunities in the future.

1. Sponsorship of the GDIB exhibit and suite reception at the Forum on Workplace Inclusion Conference. $500
2. The Spanish GDIB Edition. See article on page 5. $5,000 • $2,500 • $1,000
3. Gifting of frequent flier miles to bring several people to the Forum Conference.

WHAT IS NEEDED TO BRING MORE WOMEN INTO THE C-SUITE?

Expert Panelist, Peggy Hazard, Client Partner and Co-Head of the Women in Leadership Practice at Korn Ferry, was quoted in an article, “Your Road Map to the Corner Office” in the February 2017 issue of HR Magazine. She said “Women must seek meaningful experiences and development opportunities, and organizations need to create an environment where women feel empowered to progress in their careers at all levels.” She referred to a June 2016 study by Korn Ferry of the top 1,000 US companies by revenue, saying “In every industry we analyzed, there’s a tremendous need for improvement to bring women into the executive Suite.” Peggy adds that her work is concentrating on building the pipeline with accelerated development programs that feature “shared accountability” (women, their managers and top leaders) for removing diversity-related barriers in their selection and talent development processes and decisions.
Korn Ferry found that women make up the following percentages of each C-suite position:
- CEO – 5 percent
- Chief Financial Officer – 12 percent
- Chief Marketing Officer – 29 percent
- Chief HR Officer – 55 percent.
Peggy and her colleagues have published many other white papers, which can be accessed along with many diversity-related publications at http://www.kornferry.com/institute/reports-and-insights#/?_=1&filter.topics=Diversity%20%26%20Inclusion&page=1

NEWS, REQUESTS, AND IDEAS

SPANISH TRANSLATION GDIB COMING – WE ARE STARTING WORK ON IT – AND WE NEED MORE SPONSORS!!!!

We continue to get requests for a Spanish translation, and we have decided to move forward even though we need more sponsors to fund this. If you are interested, let Julie know and we’ll send you the information. We also have quite a few in-kind services, so we are set up for the actual translation and have several EP offering to read it and be sure it’s a good translation. In the next issue I’ll give you more of a progress report.

WANT A ONE-HOUR TRAINING WEBINAR ON GDIB FOR YOUR ORGANIZATION?

We can provide something for your Board, Executives, D&I Office, Diversity Council, ERG (Employee Resource Group), Human Resources Group, Marketing Group, Communication Team, or any other group. If you want a private webinar for your organization or to provide a gift to your community, focused on an overview or on a specific part of the GDIB, we are glad to do that for a fee ranging from about $3,000 to $5,000 depending on the degree of effort involved on our part to design it. The majority of the proceeds from this will go to the GDIB as a fundraiser. We will be sending you more information about this. We’ve had several requests for additional learning on the GDIB and this is one way we can provide that. Please remember that the GDIB itself is free and does not require certification to use. If you are interested, contact Julie for more information.

SOCIAL MEDIA TIPS FOR GDIB

Social Media Tips and Tricks

Please Post Now - Share our news and promote D&I best practices by posting the below on your social media platforms:

“I VOW NOT TO BURN OUT”

How do we keep on keeping on, especially in the current turmoil and polarization of our world? Read and take the pledge offered by GDIB Expert Panelist Mushim Ikeda’s “I Vow Not to Burn Out” in Lion’s Roar -- http://www.lionsroar.com/i-vow-not-to-burn-out/.

ASK THE EXPERTS – A Q&A SECTION

Please ask questions you have about the GDIB or anything D&I and we’ll ask answer it for you.

Is there a values basis for GDIB?

Yes, indirectly. The Universal Declaration of Human Rights published by the United Nations in 1948 is a worldwide platform supporting a range of global values including Diversity and Inclusion. There are also several related UN conventions that impact D&I directly, such as the Convention for the Rights of Persons with Disabilities. In addition, in September 2015 the United Nations Heads of State and Government and High Representatives declared support for Transforming Our World: The 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development. Several of its 17 Sustainable Development Goals mention inclusion directly. In keeping with this agenda, a category on Connecting D&I and Sustainability has been added to this 2016 GDIBedition.

Is the field too young to have benchmarks or standards?

Definitely not. By most accounts the D&I field has been in existence for five or six decades in some countries. Over this time, a vast collection of papers, articles, conference proceedings, books, benchmarking studies, and websites have shared collective practices many consider to be examples of quality work. While each organization or community must construct its own best practice, the GDIB can greatly aid that construction. Furthermore, when best practices are shared more broadly across countries, regions, industries, and sectors, collective advances in D&I will have a greater and more sustainable impact.
BIOS OF EXPERT PANELISTS

Each issue of this newsletter contains four bios. Bios of the 95 GDIB Expert Panelists are also on www.diversitycollegium.org, navigate to Global D&I Benchmarks, and scroll to Expert Panelists.

JUANCARLOS ARAUZ, Ed.D

Dr. JuanCarlos Arauz is one of the most sought after educational experts inspiring and captivating audiences by utilizing his creative storytelling approach. He has mastered the art of addressing the delicate topics of 21st century education, immigration, and Black/Brown male youth development. He has been featured in a documentary that focuses on contemporary civil rights activists and has traveled around the country as an inspirational ‘Spoken Word’ storyteller. His fresh and compelling vision is that we cannot have educational excellence without equity. Dr. Arauz received his B.A. and M.A. in Social Science Education from the University of South Florida. He received his Ed.D. in International and Multicultural Education at the University of San Francisco. His dissertation focused on the racial identity development of undocumented Latin@ youth. He is the founding Executive Director of E3: Education Excellence & Equity and an adjunct professor at Dominican University. In addition, he has served as a trustee for several independent schools and educational organizations. Fun facts are that JuanCarlos is a proud member of a family that includes his spouse, a woman of grace, and many children (there’s a story!). He and his partner have extended their family to include 21 wonderful foster youth. He is bilingual in Spanish/English, was born in Brazil to Nicaraguan parents and immigrated to the U.S & moving a lot, taught in the classroom and coached female and male high school basketball championship teams of which he is inducted into the Hall of Fame.

JANET BENNETT, Ph.D.

After serving as a Peace Corps volunteer in Micronesia, Janet Bennett, Ph.D., has devoted her career to developing theory and training design in intercultural competence. As an educator, Janet created and chaired the liberal arts division at Maryhurst College, creating award-winning interdisciplinary programs for adult learners. She provides consultation in intercultural relations in both the global and domestic arenas, where she designs programs for universities, multinational companies, government agencies, healthcare providers, legal professionals, and international relief organizations. She conducts graduate seminars in Asia and Europe and is a sought-after speaker on intercultural topics at both academic and professional conferences. Since 1987, Janet has been the executive director of The Intercultural Communication Institute (ICI), a private, nonprofit, foundation designed to foster intercultural competence in both the international and domestic arenas. ICI maintains an extensive library, an assessment center, and sponsors the annual Summer Institute for Intercultural Communication, which draws participants from throughout the world to two weeks of intensive professional development workshops. Janet is the director of the Master of Arts in Intercultural Relations, a limited residency graduate program for professionals and other non-traditional students. She also teaches training and organization development as an adjunct faculty member of the Portland State University Department of Education. Most recently, she has written “Intercultural

CRANALEITH MASTER SEMINAR
“Advanced Professional Development for Leaders, Consultants and Facilitators”
February 28 to March 2, 2017
Philadelphia, PA, USA
Expert Panelist, Ilene Wasserman, Ph.D., and colleague Marisa Guerin, Ph.D. will co-lead this seminar. From the announcement: “Since 2012, over 100 leaders and consultants for nonprofit, educational, and religious organizations from the US and Europe have attended Cranaleith Master Seminars for in-depth exploration of the challenging dynamics they face in their work roles. Using an active and collaborative format for learning, these programs provide experienced leaders with an invaluable resource: protected time, stimulating content, and a supportive group of peers for thinking, planning, and restoration of their vision and energies. The seminar format is highly sensitive to the nature of the participant group, therefore persons interested in participating must submit an application for enrollment.” Go here for more information and to apply: http://www.cranaleith.org/cranaleith-master-seminars/

HR WEST CONFERENCE/ Northern California HR Association
“Global D&I Benchmarks: We’ve Learned What Works!”
March 7, 2017
Oakland, California, USA
Expert Panelist Lorelei Carobolante will present a 75-minute session on GDIB. Here is the description: This interactive, intensive session presents a practical way to leverage global diversity and inclusion (D&I), by using the Global D&I Benchmarks as a toolkit. Examine trends related to unconscious bias, micro-aggression and micro-invalidation in workplace contexts and their effects on productivity, retention and employee engagement. Leverage benefits of diversity and inclusion by reducing bias and associated behavior, and recognize how unconscious bias relates to micro-aggression and micro-invalidation in workplace contexts. To register for the conference, go here --
